

John McCain asks a question on LinkedIn

by Chris, August 2008

John McCain asks, "What new ideas or technologies should we be investing in today?" using LinkedIn. I think it's pretty neat to see candidates using this technology in this way.

What new ideas or technologies should we be investing in today?

Our government has thrown around enough money and excusing failure. It is time for solutions.

Please read the speech below, and share your question:
